31ST JULY TO 5TH AUGUST AT THE DALES COUNTRYSIDE MUSEUM, HAWES

WHAT WILL WE BE DOING?

Each day will include training workshops in Acting and Stage Craft, Mask, or Movement or Choral speaking followed by devising sessions, leading to rehearsal of a new performance based on the legend of the Cretan Bull Dancers on Saturday 5th August.

WHERE?

The Dales Countryside Museum is a great place to work in a fantastic setting but the special appeal lies in re-purposing the outdoor auction mart with its circular space and stepped seating to recreate an ancient Greek theatre. Getting to Hawes everyday can be tricky if you live outside Wensleydale, but don't let that stop you applying. We will try to ensure you can get there.

AGE GROUP & COST?

14 - 20 years, the fee for 6 days is £120

WHO?

Richmond-based North Country Theatre, is North Yorkshire's leading small scale touring company with a 20 year history of touring from the Midlands to the Highlands. They were the originators of the West End and Broadway hit The 39 Steps and many other acclaimed adaptations and have also produced large scale community plays, site-specific dramas and educational work.

"North Country Theatre boosted my confidence in so many ways, it was always amazingly fun with great coaching from professional actors to boost your skills, especially helping me learn essentials for my A-level Drama and also studies in general." Annabel 17

COURSE TUTORS

Nobby Dimon Playwright, director, actor/manager, Cleveland Theatre, Durham Theatre Co., Snap People's Theatre, Harrogate Theatre, Jack Drum, North Country founder.

Mark Cronfield Professional actor with experience ranging from the National Theatre to Hollyoaks on TV, experimental work with three over eden to panto with Mad Alice. He has toured extensively in Britain and led acting workshops with young people in Norway.

Susan Jinks Trained at Mountview, Susan has 25 years experience as an actor/director/choreographer, from Whitby Pavilion to Stockholm's Royal Theatre, she continues to act professionally whilst leading the Performing Arts Degree course at Bishop Auckland College.
